This web site and all of the content provided on this web site, including, without limitation, all text, graphics, photographs, illustrations and the publications and reports posted on this web site are owned by Coordinating Research Council, Inc. ("CRC"), its members or other third parties and are protected by copyright under the laws of United States and international laws and treaty provisions.

Certain trademarks, service marks and trade names provided on this web site are the registered or unregistered trademarks, service marks, and trade names of CRC, its members or other third parties and may not be used, copied, downloaded or otherwise exploited without the permission of the respective owner.

CRC makes no warranty, expressed or implied, as to the application of information contained in any reports, publications, news or other postings on this web site. In formulating and approving reports or publications, neither CRC nor any committee of CRC has investigated or considered patents or other intellectual property which may apply to the subject matter. Prospective users of the reports and publications are responsible for protecting themselves against liability for any infringement of intellectual property rights that may arise from use of any of the reports or publications.

CRC grants to you a limited, non-exclusive, non-transferable right to use the web site in strict accordance with the web site Terms of Use and the instructions provided by CRC on the web site. Unless otherwise noted on the web site or specific reports or publications, you may print, copy, download, transmit or distribute the reports and publications included on the web site for personal, non-commercial purposes; provided that you: (i) do not remove, obscure, or otherwise edit any proprietary notices or disclaimer statements appearing on, or contained within, the reports or publications; (ii) do not modify, edit or otherwise use any of the content or materials in those reports or publications in any misleading or inappropriate manner; (iii) cite and provide proper attribution as to the source of the materials in connection with any use; and (iv) comply with all other restrictions that may be provided on the reports or publications.
